Queensland councils no longer need to invite tenders, as Local Buy appoints SULO

Queensland councils no longer need to invite tenders for the supply of Mobile Garbage Bins (MGBs) as Local Buy, a company wholly owned by the Local Government Association of Queensland (LGAQ), has appointed SULO as the sole supplier of MGBs for Queensland.

Local Buy is a company that was established in 2001 to provide comprehensive, value adding procurement services to Queensland local government. Their mission is to “be respected as the leader in the provision of procurement services within the arena of Queensland Local Government, through our commitment to exceed our stakeholder expectations.”

Local Buy was established to create contractual arrangements for goods and services that are used by Queensland councils. By combining the demand for these goods and services Local Buy are able to achieve better pricing and eliminating the need for councils to establish individual supply contracts.

Once Local Buy identified the need for a contract to supply MGBs a call for tenders was issued.

SULO MGB Australia was appointed the sole supplier for contract BUS125-0512, Mobile Garbage Bins.

SULO's National Sales Manager John Kernahan is enthusiastic about the new contract and believes that councils now have a simple process in place for the purchase of MGB's. “The contract contains a variety of bins at varying pricing based on volumes, which provides councils with the options they require.”

“To place an order, councils simply contact SULO directly and quote the Local Buy contract number BUS125-0512. By doing this they can take full advantage of the competitive pricing available whilst being assured they are purchasing a top quality product that meets the stringent tender requirements of Local Buy.”
