Australian Certified four wheel MGBs...
The only supplier in the market

01 December 2009

SULO Australia's range of four wheel Mobile Garbage Bins (MGBs) have recently been tested and certified to the Australian Standard AS 4123, leaving SULO Australia as the only supplier to announce certification on four wheel MGBs.

AS 4123 was designed to cover a range of various categories to ensure MGBs destined for the Australian market are consistently manufactured to the highest quality standards and can withstand Australian conditions. The standard covers a number of critical areas including; dimensions and design, testing methods, colours and markings, performance requirements and health, safety and the Environment.

SULO's Director of Sales and Marketing, John Kernahan believes the certification has taken the company a step forward, stating "while our range of two wheel MGBs have been Australian Certified for some time now, the recent certification of our four wheel MGBs means that our entire range of mobile garbage bins are specifically manufactured to suit the Australian market".

SULO's complete range of four wheel containers come in a variety of colours and sizes ranging from 660 litres to 1100 litres. As well as being the only Australian manufacturer to announce certification, SULO Australia is also the only Australia manufacturer to hold large stocks of four wheel containers in a range of colours that meet the Australian Standard requirements for source separated waste streams.

Mr Kernahan continued "the certification certainly gives us a competitive edge as we are currently the only supplier of Australian Certified four wheel MGBs. This certification means SULO can guarantee consistent product quality across our entire range of MGBs".
